GRAFF

Graff has launched the Java Collection featuring a variety of faucets with flat spout and distinct shapes and lines. The collection offers a complete range of faucets for washbasins, bidets, bathtubs and shower areas. The washbasin mixers are available in deck-mounted and wall-mounted versions in different heights, with or without a pop-up waste. Available in Polished Chrome and soon to be available in Matte Black, the collection comes with five different trims to match the Unibox wall-mounted system, which allows the installation of five different shower products with a unique concealed mechanism. This five solution — a shower mixer with two or three outlets and a thermostatic unit with cutoff valve, two or three outlet diverter — is compact and easy to install. The collection also includes two shower columns with or without thermostatic valve, meeting the necessary requirements.
