CHEVRON AND HERRINGBONE
Square Foot

Square Foot, a wooden flooring company, announced the launch of its new designer range of flooring – Chevron and Herringbone in Laminate and Real Wood. A legacy of the great Renaissance glory, dating back to medieval times, the Chevron collection is a floor inspired by the classic parquets of traditional European design and is an extraordinary technique that will add a touch of prestige to any room, in which it becomes a work of art in its own right. It is best suited to more elegant areas around the home, museums, galleries, fashion boutiques and showrooms. The Chevron is more modern than the Herringbone design. The Chevron range by Square Foot is offered in two colors in engineered wood flooring – Oak Natural and Oak Cinnamon, and in two colors in laminate wood flooring – Chevron Oak Rochesta and Chevron Oak Ashford. The Herringbone collection is a set of rectangular blocks so named for its fancied resemblance to the skeleton of a fish. Herringbone is a weave like solid oak parquet blocks that helps to achieve a floor that will be remarked upon for years to come. It is best suited to for people looking for a traditional design floor. The Herringbone range by Square Foot is offered in 3 shades in laminate flooring. It also comes in 4 options in engineered and solid wood flooring.
