4 Universal Fusion

With a most poetic quill, designer Davide Oppizzi describes his powderroom creation as the "symbol of fusion between the Universe above and the oceans below." Whether the uniquely shaped Ametis Shower System does all that is up for debate, but one thing is certain, it is surely a cool-looking shower. Integrated with a chromotherapy system, RGB LED lighting and four spray options from within the shower ring, the combination of a luxurious waterfall with soft lighting is relaxing and reinvigorating.

5 How Low Can You Go?

At 0.9 gallons per minute, Axor Starck Organic faucets raise the sustainable bar even higher. Also available with a 1.3 gpm flow, the minimalist design features aerators with 90 spray outlets to create a full spray sensation, despite the low water use. Made from a third less brass than typical faucets, and exceeding WaterSense levels with its ultra-low flow rate, the Organic collection scores high marks for sustainable design. Judges said: "It's a functional and refreshing new take on your basic fixture." www.hansgrohe-usa.com, Circle 509

KWC AMERICA KWC ZOE

6 Flowing with LED

Complementing the elegantly curved spout of the KWC ZOE single-level kitchen faucet is a unique curved base and LED light ring incorporated into the pull-out spray. The long-lasting, low power source both illuminates the water jet and the work area with direct, unblocked light. ZOE's flowing design also blends well with both contemporary and traditional designs.

7 Sensuous, Yet Simple

Exuding its namesake Sento, which means "I feel" in Italian, Graff's minimalist design for this faucet series is clean and simple, yet sensual at the same time. Teaming up with European designers Daniele Ruzza and Silvana Angeletti, the seemingly opposing qualities of lightness and strength drove the design. Judges said: "With a very versatile aesthetic, this is a practical and inexpensive product to freshen up a look."

8 Form Follows for Function

Prepping and cleaning all in one space, the Modex features an integrated cutting board within a sleek, modular design. A form-follows-function-inspired product, the sink itself is also stain and heat resistant. Lending his voice, Corey S. Klassen, vice president, professional development, National Kitchen and Bath Assn., relates, "Modex is a perfect choice because it offers a multifunctional sink with a large capacity and additional preparation surface to suit the envisioned client's tasks."
