

GOOD HOMES

SPECIAL FEATURE

This elegant bathroom by Maison Valentina illustrates just how to make a stunning statement in your bathroom. While marble provides an apt backdrop for the drama to unfold, the chandelier and the bathtub makes for equal contenders as conversation starters.

TOP TIP
You could experiment with prints and patterns to add to the drama. Bring in sculptural elements and play with textures to create the right impact.

9 Play of Textures

Textures and patterns add a lot of interest. Whether it's the subtle luxury of marble or the raw edginess of brick, or Country-style mosaic, it goes a long way in adding an element of interest to your most personal space.

For 2018, we expect new finishes and new materials to be in the limelight, both for the fittings and furniture elements. The trend of luxury is to create products that can make the customer's life easier and more comfortable, which is why the products have to be attractive and at the same time functional, resistant, and easy to maintain.
