The Tiaara by Artize in design resembles an extravagant piece of jewellery with echoing ovals of abstracting functionality into a simple act of elevating conventional usage into an exquisite experience. Tiaara faucet brings a sense of mystique in bath fittings, and is built to provide uniqueness in usage experience. The concentric rings originate from the play of echoing ripples of water and the inner ring swings to give access to running water that seamlessly stops without spilling a drop when swung back. The solid brass body ensures the durability of the faucet; the ceramic cartridge creates a smooth, regulated water flow.

Having a true celestial form, Graff's Luna looks like it was born of the sun and the stars and brings an ethereal quality to your bath environment. Appearing to float along the wall, the curve of the Luna spout seems to magically deliver a stream of water. The spout has a powerful aerated flow rate of 18 liters per minute at 3 bars. Creating a beautiful and perfectly functioning spout as long as Luna is so challenging that no other manufacturer has ever come close to antching its curves and length. Graff's engineering process and know-how is such that the plating and chroming of each product is many times thicker than most. Luna's singular design still reigns supreme not only for its aesthetic characteristics but also for the mirror-like finish giving a highly reflecting effect to its surfaces.

The distinctive characteristic of this design by Gessi, is its creative, unedited and ironic exploration of iconic symbols, these latter are usually simple but very evocative forms, just like the rectangle. The rectangle represents as an amazing and unusual form for brassware. Its shape transforms a daily use object into a small furnishing sculpture. The harmony of the stylized and minimalist lines of the Rettangolo collection communicate a contemporary and passionate lifestyle, appealing to an extroverted and innovative public, to design and art friendly people. The flow can be controlled with a remote joystick mixer or an electronic sensor placed anywhere in the bathroom. (Available at FCML)
