Graff has introduced Harley, the faucet collection that revolutionizes ergonomics and aesthetics in the bathroom. The G+Design studio worked very carefully on the details of the handle to create a beautiful, practical and functional solution. The handle is deliberately knurled and the surface is ridged to prevent slipping even with wet or soapy hands. The ergonomic shape provides the possibility to insert the fingers inside the handle or to operate the controls by gripping them from the outside.

H&R Johnson has launched two new series of taps in Johnson bathrooms range. Omega series comes with contemporary blend of curves and straight lines. Its special chrome finish gives the taps a long lasting shine. It has a specially designed spout for cascade flow. The Twirl series is a combination of functionality with geometrically designed body and unique steering handle which gives it a minimalist yet contemporary look.
